#Read the following passage then answer:

You don't need to look back thirty years to realise the tremendous developments in science and technology, and how these advances are changing the lifestyle of millions of people all over the world. Although the television and video were there in those days, no one had heard then of those wonderful remote-control units that turn the equipment on and off helping us to choose our entertainment with the least physical effort.

There are many other effects of technology that made our life more comfortable. You no longer worry about washing the dishes; your dishwashing machine can take care of that. If you want a hot meal, you just pop your favourite food into the microwave oven and it's ready in minutes. If you need to send an urgent message, just write it down and send it through your fax machine and it arrives on the other side of the world in seconds. Passenger planes fly nonstop to different parts of the world and their pilots can find time to relax as the computers do most of the hard work for them. This leaves people more time to enjoy themselves and it also explains the remarkable current progress in the leisure industry.

Leisure today is a big business. Just read the advertisements in your newspaper. You just won't believe the variety; you'll find something to fit all incomes and tastes. As robots take over the work of people in industry, as communications across the world become faster, and while technology continues to create ways of persuading us to work less and enjoy ourselves more, the leisure industry will play a far more important role in the lives of us all.
